MUTINEERS SURRENDER

GIVE UP TO ROUMANIANS AS DESSERTERS AND ARE SCATTERED ASHORE.

WANTED TO GIVE SHIP AWAY

Didn't Want the Russian Government, if Possible, to Get Craft Again.

IS SURPRISED OVER NEWS

Kustenji, Roumania, July 8.—The mutinous crew of the Kniaz Potemkine and her consort, the rebel torpedo boat, have surrendered to the Roumanian authorities and been landed and are now being dispatched in small parties to different places in Roumania. The mutineers offered to present the battleship to the Roumanian government, as they declare they are anxious that she should not be handed over to Russia.

The Kniaz Potemkine arrived here today, accompanied by a torpedo boat, and came to anchor in the outer harbor, near the Russian guardship Paezouape. The Roumanian cruiser Elizabeth and the training ship Mircea were in close proximity. Gen. Angel-esco, commanding the Dobruja division, and the port commander proceeded to demand an explanation of the reasons for her reappearance in Roumanian waters.

Soon after she had anchored the Kniaz Potemkine began exchanging signals with the royal guardship Paezouape, and it was the belief ashore that the mutineers contemplated surrendering in accordance with the terms offered by the Roumanian government when the battleship last visited this port. The appearance of the Kniaz Potemkine and the rumors concerning the intentions of her crew caused the greatest excitement in Kustenji and attracted large crowds to the sea front. The excitement was increased later in the day when it became known that the mutineers had offered to surrender to the Roumanian authorities as deserters and that the Roumanian officials had demanded the breech locks of the guns of the battleship as a pledge of the mutineers' good faith.

The mutineers asked the Roumanian authorities to guarantee that they would furnish the sailors who surrendered with Roumanian passports and also to guarantee that they shall not be extradited to Russia. The local authorities are awaiting instructions from Bucharest, and in the meantime the commander of the port is preparing a berth for the Kniaz Potemkine.

RUSSIA IS SURPRISED.

By Appearance of the Kniaz Potemkine in Roumanian Waters.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—The admiral has been advised of the arrival of the Kniaz Potemkine at Kustenji, and is now endeavoring to get in touch with Rear Admiral Kruger's squadron and turn it westward. Dispatches have been sent to all the Caucasian ports.

The return of the rebel battleship to Kustenji was a complete surprise to the admiral. The naval authorities conjecture that a large part of the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine would rather take advantage of Roumania's offer of treatment as deserters, and thereby escape punishment for their conduct, than cast in their lot with the revolutionists in the Caucasus.

CARNIVAL MAN

Representative of Parker Amusement Company Coming Tomorrow.

The representative of the C. W. Parker Amusement company, will arrive here tomorrow to confer with the promoters of the carnival to be given next September by the Paducah Traveling Men's Carnival Association. It is more than probable that contracts will be closed with these people, as their company is the finest on the road, it taking thirty-two big railroad cars to transport the company and its effects.

Thomas O'Keefe, of Greentown, N. Y., believes he is a direct heir to the millions that Dennis O'Keefe, who died some years ago in Texas, left behind and without making a will. The living O'Keefe is going to try, and prove his relationship.

ELEVEN MEN LOSE LIVES.

Were Trying to Break a Log Jam in Swift Water.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., July 8.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday at Little Falls dam. Eleven lost their lives by drowning.

A crew of 74 men had been sent out by the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company to break a log jam below the falls.

A crew of fifteen men started in a boat for the centre of the stream. Louis Gokey and Andrew Cagnon were running the boat, which was overloaded and as it torched the lower end of the jam three men jumped and landed safely on the logs.

The other twelve, however, were carried away into the wild rapids, where the boat was capsized, throwing all into the water. They were all good swimmers, but the water was too swift and only one succeeded in saving himself. He was a 17-year-old boy, Eddie Martin, of Chippewa Falls.

DENOUNCES BIBLE READING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Cleveland, O., July 8.—The reading of the Bible in the public schools was denounced in the report of the committee on sectarianism of the central conference of American Rabbis which closed here. The report as adopted contains the following:

"The place of the Bible in the home, the church, and the church-school. To force it into the public educational institutions is not merely to suggest that these three agencies are powerless to effect the desired results, but it is likewise to interfere with the growth of a finer and larger human brotherhood. It has created ill-feeling between Catholic and Protestant, and has caused both to look down upon the Jew."

Must Sight Them

COUNCILMANIC COMMITTEE BELIEVES THEY HAVE NO PART.

Think Inasmuch as Aldermen Are the Judges of Case, It Is Their Place
to Handle It Alone.

It may be that the committee selected from among the council of this city to prosecute the charges lodged against City Jailor Thomas Everts in the board of aldermen, will refuse to act in the matter unless things are made plainer to them regarding the authority under which they are compelled to push the accusations, that look towards the impeachment of the jailor.

One of the members of the council committee said yesterday that heretofore charges have been preferred against several city officials in the aldermanic board, but that never before has a committee from the council been chosen to prosecute them, and they believe that the aldermen must have overlooked their hand in this particular instance.

Thursday night when Mayor Yeiser instituted the charges against the city jailor, the lawyers read from some book of rules stipulating that a committee of the council should be appointed to prosecute the charges. Acting upon the advice of the attorneys, President Dick Davis, of the aldermanic body, named Councilmen George Ingram, John G. Rehkopf and R. S. Barnett as the committee to prosecute the jailor.

A member of that committee said yesterday that the appointment of himself and the two others was unprecedented and never done heretofore, and that he believed it was not their duty to have charge of the prosecution, especially inasmuch as the council has no say whatever in trying the charges which are passed on altogether by the aldermen who decide whether the accused is guilty or not. The committee selected from the council will meet and see if they can be compelled to prosecute case, and if not, they will refuse to act in the premises and let the matter rest with the aldermen solely.

One of the committeemen expressed his opinion as believing that the book of rules read from at Thursday night's aldermanic meeting must have been those regulations in vogue while the city was a third class town, and the council board the only one in the legislative department. After the city went into the second class two legislative boards were created, council and aldermen.

PEACE ENVOYS SAILED FROM JAPAN ON YESTER-DAY.

Governor of Yokohama and Civic Bodies Escort Plenipotentiaries
to Pier.

Yokohama, Japan, July 8.—The steamer Minnesota of the Great Northern Line, having on board the Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, sailed from this port for Seattle at 4:30 this afternoon. The governor of Yokohama and the civic bodies escorted the plenipotentiaries to the pier where they were received by a military guard. At the pier the plenipotentiaries and their suites entered launches and were conveyed to the Minnesota, which was dressed with flags, as were all the other ships in the harbor.

Enormous Crowd.

The Marquis Ito, Premier Katsura, the other members of the cabinet, Mr. Griescom, the American minister and the staff of the legation were among those who accompanied Baron Komura and his party to the Minnesota. An enormous crowd of Japanese and foreigners, with bands of music, assembled at the water front and general enthusiasm was manifested, the bands playing patriotic airs and the crowds discharging fireworks. On arriving on board the Minnesota Baron Komura and those who accompanied him partook of a collation, after which the ship sailed amidst a storm of banzais. The Japanese guardship Takao fired a salute of nineteen guns as the Minnesota put to sea, escorted by a torpedo boat and a naval steamer specially detailed to convey her out of Tokyo Bay.

Personnel of Commission.

The Japanese peace plenipotentiaries are Baron Jutaro Komura, the foreign minister of Japan, and Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister to the United States. Accompanying Baron Komura from Japan are, so far as ascertainable here, Col. Tachibana, of the war office; M. Yamaza, director of the bureau of political affairs; M. Saito, director of the bureau of information, and H. W. Denison (American), advisor of the foreign office, and a number of interpreters, clerks and others appointed to assist the plenipotentiaries.

Premier Katsura will act as foreign minister during the absence of Baron Komura.

MAYFIELD MYSTERY.

Nothing Done Regarding It by Grand Jury That Returned 60 Bills.

Circuit court has come to a close at Mayfield after a several weeks' session, and nothing was done by the grand jury towards unraveling the mystery surrounding the murder of the unknown man found under the straw pile upon the Reynolds farm near Mayfield.

Sixty-three indictments were returned, one against David Desberger, the clothier of this city, who carried to Mayfield a stock of goods and advertised it as fire stock. They indicted him for doing an itinerant merchant's business without a license and he was fined $50 and costs. He moved his stock away from there last week.

He Holds Up a Western Stage and Gets Over $1,000.

Meadows, Idaho, July 8.—The stage from Warren to Meadows has been held up by a lone highwayman near Resort Station. The bandit covered the driver with two automatic revolvers and compelled him to cut open the mail sacks and throw them down. He then removed all the registered letters.

The passengers and the driver were lined up and relieved of their valuables. The robber then coolly walked away with his plunder, amounting to $1,200 or $1,500. He was unmasked.

Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock has decided to stop the gambling going on in Hot Springs. He says he believes the place is more of a gambling hole than a health resort. He says further that if he cannot get the local authorities to enforce the laws that he will call upon the federal authorities there to do so.

George D. May, formerly president of the Big Bend National bank at Davison, Wash., has been arrested in Boston as a fugitive from justice. He stands indicted for misappropriating the funds of the Big Bend bank.

Paul Jones

THE FRENCH MAKE MUCH
OVER THE NAVAL HERO.

Military Honors Paid on a Scale of Grandeur Never Seen in Paris Before.

Paris, July 8.—French military participation in the honors paid to Paul Jones' body were on a scale of unanticipated grandeur. It is a long time since a finer display has been seen in Paris. The Champs Elysees was cleared of public throngs and then filled with bodies of French infantry, cavalry and artillery escorting the flag-draped coffin surrounded by sturdy American marines and bluejackets on the way over the Seine to the tribune, where the highest officials of France awaited to pay the last homage to the hero's mortal remains. A large troop of cuirassiers with the sun shining on their steel breastplates and helmets dashing along in the rear gave the last touch to the martial scene which the papers describe as absolutely epic in character.

Lively Battle Tunes.

Instead of playing solemn funeral marches the bands in the cortege sounded sprightly battle tunes which drew an immense concourse to the Esplanade des Invalides, where the body was placed in state while the troops passed twice before it. General Brugere, generalissimo of the French army, and Admiral Fournier mightily praised the marching order of the Americans and the taste of their uniforms; but the general seemed surprised at the small stature of the majority of the men.

"You speak of our soldiers as 'the little French soldiers,'" he said to the press correspondent, "yet they are about the same in height as your own, though the Americans look more muscular."

Premier Rouvier followed every phase of the ceremonies with great interest, insisting on waiting till the very end even after the church service; though only a few yards distant from the German ambassador, who was waiting for him at the foreign office.

Becomes Enthusiased.

At Ambassador Porter and Mr. Loomis' references to the warmth of the feeling between the United States and France, the prime minister repeatedly bowed his head enthusiastically and whispered to his colleague Berteaux. The press correspondent asked Berteaux what the premier said. Berteaux replied that Rouvier was surprised that no mention was made by the orators of the fact that France was the first of all nations to recognize by flag of salute the American naval flag when the war vessel Ranger visited France under Paul Jones' command.

City Primary

COMMITTEE WILL FIX EN-TRANCE FEE AND CLOS-ING TIME.

Judge Thomas Paynter Left Yesterday for Other Parts of the State After a Visit Here.

Chairman A. W. Berry, of the city Democratic committee, yesterday called that body to meet at 8 o'clock next Wednesday evening at his office in the Fraternity building, for the purpose of selecting committees to decide what entrance fee shall be charged the candidates entering the Democratic primary of August 21, at which time alderman, councilman and school trustee will be chosen as the party nominees for the regular November election. The full committee several months ago decided on that date for the primary, and now that the date is near at hand, they will have to name the price of entrance, and also set the date after which no entries can be made, so the ballots can be gotten up. Five older men are to be chosen, eight councilmen and seven school trustees.

Judge Paynter Left.

Yesterday morning Judge Thomas H. Paynter left for other parts of the state, after spending several days here in the interest of his candidacy for the United States senate, to succeed the incumbent, Hon. Joe C. S. Blackburn. While here Judge Paynter was in constant conference with a number of his friends and strong supporters.

NORWEGIANS AWAIT REPORT ANXIOUSLY

War Party Becoming Less Aggressive Owing to Statement.

Stockholm, July 8.—"Breathless anticipation" is hardly too strong a phrase to describe the state of the public mind in relation to the forthcoming report of the Riksdag committee charged with arranging a basis of settlement with Norway. There is still much war talk and still deep resentment against the Norwegians, but the peace sentiment is gathering in consistency and seems destined to win the day. Nevertheless, the problem of obtaining a dissolution of the union which does not outrage Swedish feelings and does not expose Swedish interests to danger bristles with difficulties. The committee's report will probably not appear before July 12.

Two Fires

BLAZE CAUSED QUITE A LOSS
AT THE HOME LAUNDRY
THIS MORNING.

Department Had Just Extinguished a Blaze at Wilkins' Grocery on South Ninth.

This morning shortly before 1 o'clock the laundry of Wahl Brothers on South Third street near Kentucky avenue was partially destroyed by fire, which is thought to have been of incendiary origin. The blaze was discovered by Barber Frakes, who had just stepped out of his barber shop close to Broadway. The flames were coming out of the windows, accompanied by dense volumes of smoke. He turned in an alarm and the stationmen at No. 1 and the Clay and Tenth street departments responded to the call and quickly extinguished the blaze. The back door of the establishment was found wide open, and as Mr. Albie Wahl remembers particularly of closing same he has no doubt but what it was broken open and the place fired. In fact it can be seen where there was pushed out of position some nails that held the iron bolt in place on the back door. And all of yesterday night a pound of steam was raised on the place and all the work was done with power furnished by their electric motor. It seems as if the fire started under the stairway that leads from the first to the second floor, about twenty feet inside the back door. The blaze was rapidly spreading everywhere when the departments arrived and quickly extinguished it. Mr. Wahl cannot yet tell the amount of his loss, which will be close to $1,000 anyhow, and more if closer examination shows that his machines were ruined. He carries $2,000 insurance.

The fire falls doubly hard as it not only inconveniences the proprietors of the laundry but also some Cairo laundry people, as the establishment of the latter at the Egyptian city has burned out and the Messrs. Wahl were doing the Cairo people's washing for them while they replaced their destroyed establishment. Now both houses are out of business at the same time.

The circumstances surrounding the fire are quite coincidental in nature, because when the alarm of fire was turned in some of the central department stationmen and apparatus were at Ninth and Tennessee streets extinguishing a small blaze that started in the Wilkins' grocery at that intersection. The laundry blaze summoned them down to Third from Ninth and Tennessee, which they were just leaving. The coincidence is the fact that eighteen months ago when Al Bishop owned the laundry the place took fire just as the apparatus was returning from extinguishing the burning stable of Captain Mendel Johnson, of Clark near Fourth street. At that time the blaze in the laundry started under the stairway and was of incendiary origin.

Mr. V. Wilkins, of Ninth and Tennessee, was just preparing to leave his grocery last night about 12 o'clock when a party coming along told him to look back in the rear end as a fire was burning. He quickly turned in the alarm and the men rapidly put out the blaze. His loss is very small, but would have been total if fire had not been discovered at the time it was, because it had commenced right beside some barrels containing coal oil. Jake Biederman owns that building, while the Milam estate owns the one occupied by Wahl's laundry. The latter house was damaged considerably.

The 30,000 Christian Endeavors attending the national convention in session in Baltimore went off on three excursions, to Washington, the Gettysburg battlefield and down the Chesapeake bay yesterday.

POWERS TRIAL TO BE CALLED

AT GEORGETOWN TOMORROW
IN HOME OF JUDGE COCH-RANE'S OPINION.

HE CLAIMS JURISDICTION.

Pending Decision of the Supreme Court on Appeal Against Cochrane's Decision.

TO RESIST REMOVAL ORDER

Frankfort, Ky., July 8.—Caleb Powers will be brought to trial before the special term of the circuit court, which will be called in Georgetown Monday, despite the decision of Federal Judge Cochran yesterday. This is the conclusion reached by Circuit Judge Stout and Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin.

They claim according to the best information obtainable here, that until the case is decided upon by the United States supreme court, the appeal having been granted the state's attorneys by Judge Cochran, the state courts have a perfect right to act, as the federal judge has decided that the prisoner is to remain in the hands of the state officials until the highest court in the land renders its decision.

(The order for the transfer to the Newport jail will therefore be contested, and an effort will be made to enter for the fourth time upon the trial of the case.)

Judge Stout is now in Versailles, where he has been holding court, and Attorney General Hays, who will have charge of the appeal to the supreme court, went to Lancaster last night to visit his brother and did not return this morning. Information could be gathered regarding the details to be taken by the comm.

POWERS DELIC

Over Decision of Judge Cochran's.

Georgetown, Ky., July 8.—When seen in the jail at this place Caleb Powers expressed great pleasure at the action of the court.

"I have always believed," he said, "that right would finally prevail. I am now more convinced of it than ever before. I have been receiving telephone and telegraphic communications of congratulations, as well as personal calls. I received a telephone message a few minutes ago, saying that Judge Cochran had ordered me to the Newport jail."

Mr. Powers said that Jailer Finley had for some time, however, had orders from Attorney Franklin instructing him not to turn Powers over under any circumstances, which, after Cochran's decision, may cause some friction between the federal and state courts. Jailer Finley has requested Mr. Powers to ask Judge Kinkead to request Judge Cochran not to make an order until Monday, when the court will convene here, giving little more time to find out what to do in the premises.

OCCASIONAL COLLISIONS.

Russians Being Gradually Driven Northward.

Tokio, July 8.—The following official dispatch has been received from the Japanese army headquarters:

"Occasional collisions take place between scouts on both sides of the railroad along the Fenghuang, Kaifu-Yuen and Kwangping roads. The enemy is being gradually driven northward."

JOHN SACRA CONVICTED.

Russellville, Ky., July 8.—John Sacra, charged with brutally outraging Mary Gladder, a young German girl, in this county, some time since, has been convicted. His punishment has been fixed at death. Sacra showed little emotion when the verdict was announced.

Sacra's wife and little children were present when the jury brought in the verdict, and the scene when they heard the prisoner's terrible fate was heartrending.

D. P. Evans, of Cleveland, O., a native Kentuckian, who was pushing a wheelbarrow on a journey of ten thousand miles on a wagon, accidentally shot and killed himself near Vicksburg, Miss., on the 7th. He started on his trip May, 1904, and had almost completed the undertaking.

The Blot on America.

(Louisville Herald.)

There have been in twenty years a total of 131,951 murders and homicides in the United States, and 2,286 executions only. The number of executions last year was practically the same as that of 1885, though the number of murders had in the interval risen from 1,308 to 8,482. This appalling condition has inspired Secretary Taft's ringing declaration: "I grieve for my country to say that the administration of the criminal law in all the states of the Union—there may be one or two exceptions—is a disgrace to our civilization."

Secretary Taft holds that the power of the judge in criminal cases in this country is too restricted. The judge in England always takes and maintains his part at common law in the trial of every defendant. The British judge exercises complete control over procedure. He restrains counsel to points at issue. He advises the jury how to consider evidence, and gives his own opinion freely and clearly on the evidence submitted.

Here, on the other hand, the function of the judge is restricted to that of a moderator in a religious assembly. The law throws the rein on the back of the jury, and the verdict becomes rather the vote of a town meeting than the sharp, clear determination of a tribunal of justice. Judge Taft suggests: "The cure for this growing cancer in the body politic may be found in statutory amendment. If the laws could be passed either abolishing the right of criminal appeal and leaving to the pardoning power, as in England, the correction of judicial wrong, or, instead of that, if appeals must be allowed, then if a provision of law could be enacted by which no judgment of the court below could be reversed except for an error, which the court, after reading the entire evidence, can affirmatively say would have led to a different verdict, ninety-nine reversals out of one hundred, under the present system, would be avoided."

District Attorney Jerome, of New York, sustains the position taken by Secretary Taft. The law's delays now prevailing often lead to the defeat of justice. Declares Mr. Jerome: "Say a man has been convicted after a fair trial. Any lawyer can get an appeal. The case is taken to the appellate division. Then it can be carried up to the court of appeals. If the defendant has the money a whole year can be taken up in this manner, and the whole value of punishment to the community, which consists in its celebrity and certainty, is lost. I have a case now where the crime was committed in September, 1903. This office has spent $35,000 in getting one of the defendants within the jurisdiction of the court, and yet, up to this time, absolutely nothing has been done, owing to legal delays. It is getting to be something fierce."

What America needs is a system of justice giving clear, definite, early results. We want, in fact, justice that does things; justice that protects innocence and punishes guilt with promptitude and fearlessness.

That Henderson is not in Paducah's class was again demonstrated at the park yesterday when another indifferent game of ball was played. Both sides seem to be aware of that fact and played accordingly. It was a game of top notchers against tail-enders with the spirit of indifference prevailing. Everything considered, it was a good game of ball, but there was no ginger in the players. There were no features to the game.

Blood Will Tell.

(Nashville Banner.)

In the dispatches telling of trouble times at Odessa, and the exodus of the foreign population, there is a concluding statement that a British ship has offered hospitality to American residents. Occasionally there are incidents like this that recall the famous remark of Capt. Taitall, of the United States navy, who, when called upon some fifty years ago, said in answer to a charge of infringing the neutrality laws, "Blood is thicker than water." Taitall, a Georgian, subsequently a Confederate, saw a party of Englishmen being sorely pressed by large body of Chinese and turned his guns on the Chinkamen. It was a gross breach of international law, of course, but in that far-away country white men of the same blood and language seemed very close akin, and the impulsive American could not stand idly by and see them shot down by the yellow heathen.

The British have on several occasions demonstrated a like spirit towards Americans. When a party of American filibusters were about to be shot by the Spanish authorities at Santiago de Cuba a British ship at Kingston, Jamaica, hearing the news, sailed to Santiago and put a stop to the murderous work.

Another incident is that which occurred at Manila in 1898. When the German Admiral Von Dettlich was growing very insolent towards the Americans he inquired of the British commander, Capt. Chichester, what his ships would do under certain conditions, and the Briton's significant reply was, "Admiral Dewey knows."

Always in distant parts of the world when Americans and Englishmen are thrown together among a people essentially different from them both this feeling of kinship manifests itself. The offer of hospitality to Americans by the British ship at Odessa is only a small matter, one of simple courtesy, but the small things of life are sometimes most significant, and this little kindness of the British ship captain must awaken a responsive chord in the American heart.

Sunday Morning, July 9, 1905.

According to Frankfort dispatches it seems the state is going to take up the Powers case Monday notwithstanding the opinion of Judge Cochran delivered at Maysville transferring the case to the federal courts. This decision is certain to cause a conflict of courts and whether right or wrong will do no good just at this time. If Powers is as guilty as charged and is convicted in the federal courts as the state courts, all things being equal and without any just cause for charged injustice.

Mr. Root as secretary of the war department stepped many abuses and put the department affairs on the basis of efficiency. To do this he had to introduce many reforms and call upon congress for assistance. He left the secretaryship with the record of having made the best secretary of the war since Stanton served in that capacity. When he enters the department of state Mr. Root, the best friend of the late Secretary Hay say, will find the department sadly in need of reorganizing, especially as to the consular service. But it is predicted that he is such a fine executive head that he will soon make the service the best in the world. He may in this way make himself as popular at home at least as was Mr. Hay.

There were a number of hangings throughout the states last Friday. Kentucky was the scene of two executions of cold blooded murderers, one white and the other colored. The country now and then remembers what justice is and the laws are strengthened whenever this is the case.

Though Judge Cochran's decision in the matter of transferring the Caleb Powers' case from the state to the federal courts was carefully predicted and well sustained by the laws the judge was careful enough to drop a few hints of assurance to those who might differ with his opinion. He said among other things: "If I decide to take jurisdiction my action is not final. Application can be made to the supreme court for a mandamus, commanding me to restore defendant to state custody, and the whole question can be settled for all time to come."

And also: "I will permit Mr. Powers to remain in the custody of the state authorities until trial in the federal court." The case for the commonwealth was appealed to the supreme court and after argument was granted by Judge Cochran. The judge rather surprised the defense and prosecution in refusing to go behind the state courts, which decided that the pardon granted by Taylor to Powers was invalid.

Col'd Holdings.
Since 1896 the product of the world's gold mines has amounted to $2,526,000,000. In that time three great wars have been fought—that of the United States with Spain, that of Great Britain with the Transvaal republics, and the third that of Russia with Japan. The years of the Boer war materially reduced the output of gold by closing the Transvaal mines, the world's chief source of supply. All three wars involving so many international possibilities of grave moment have resulted in much hoarding of gold by banks, says the Wall Street Journal.

Of the $2,526,000,000 of gold produced in the world since 1896, about $960,000,000 have gone into the vaults of the principal banks of Europe, while about $200,000,000 have gone into the reserves of the national banks of the United States, making a total of $1,160,000,000, which is represented by the increased holdings of the principal banks of Europe and the United States. It may be estimated that $757,000,000 was used in the arts and sciences, this being based upon an allowance of 30 per cent. of the gross production, though perhaps 25 per cent. would be a closer estimate. This leaves $600,000,000 unaccounted for. A part of this has gone into the vaults of other than national banks in the United States and other than the chief government banks in Europe. But these holdings would, after all, represent only a part of the $600,000,000. Where the remainder is is a mystery. It is, however, quite probable that immense sums are being held in private stores as reserves of independent bankers.

In measuring the effects of the gold supply upon prices of commodities and rates of interest, it will be necessary to calculate—first, whether the increase of nearly $1,200,000,000 in the gold reserves of the leading banks of the United States has been fully represented by a corresponding increase in credits, and second, whether the secret reserves of private bankers may not be brought into a more intimate relation with international credits as soon as all doubts created by war have been removed by the establishment of a world peace.

Mr. Root is entitled to the fullest praise for all the sacrifices he may make in accepting the office of secretary of state in President Roosevelt's cabinet, but those papers which are saying he gives up a $200,000 a year law practice in Greater New York to take up the duties of the office are undoubtedly putting it too strong both as to Mr. Root's patriotism and success at law. Vain glory is valuable to some men, and many of them, but to give up an income of $200,000 for one of $8,000, with many social costs or drains attached, will strike the average man as paying higher for honors than the aforesaid honors are high. The world reads of sacrifices in days gone, but the days of sacrifices like the days of many other things have passed.

The allegations made some time since by the Southern Planters association, charging that the government cotton reports were "doctored," has been fully established and the department has had to bounce an attack. The administration has had many scandals to answer for, and there are no doubt more to follow. So far hardly a department has escaped some accusation which only had to be made to be proven on an investigation following.

The Russian Black Sea naval mutineers have abandoned their ship and taken to the woods of Rumania as deserters. The cowardly act of the men is a great relief no doubt to the Russian government, for such a warship in the hands of revolutionists could have been made dangerous in more ways than one. A concert of action could easily have gathered about the ship quite a formidable array of revolutionists at any one time of the Black Sea ports.

Mayor Weaver, of Philadelphia, continues to turn the rascals holding place under him out of the Quaker City's Augean stables. If he does not let up on the work he will soon be without a place as "hostler" for his city.

The remains of Admiral Paul Jones left France yesterday for America. The French people sent the body away after paying much honor there to and to the escort squadron sent over from this country. The incidents connected with the removal of the naval hero's body is calculated to bind the two nations in deeper friendship in the hands of revolutionists thing is possible.

Japan's envoys to the Washington peace conference have sailed from that country. Already one of Russia's plenipotentiaries, in the person of the newly appointed minister to this country, has arrived in Washington. The conference should gather about the first of the coming month.

Through Paducah

THE CURRENT RUMORS ARE OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED NOW.

Tennessee Central Railroad Will Come Through Here Towards St. Louis.

All Paducahians will receive with much pleasure the telegraphic news flashed out of Nashville, Tenn., that the Tennessee Central railroad will immediately commence extending its line from its present terminus at Hopkinsville through to Paducah and then on down to Joppy, where it will be connected with the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad that is backed by the Frisco system. These extensions will make a complete route through here from Southeast to northwest and be a big thing for this city. The Nashville dispatches stated as follows yesterday:

Nashville, Tenn., July 8.—President Van Blarcom and General Manager Clark, of the Tennessee Central, and Senator Bailey, legal representative of the owners of the road, returned today from a thorough inspection of the properties and confirmed the report that work would begin at once on improvements and that the road would be extended in several directions, including extensions to Paducah and to Knoxville.

"The stockholders of the Tennessee Central have put a great deal of money into the road," said Senator Bailey, "and it will be done immediately. The company will liquidate all its present lines and make a number of important extensions. The company will also begin at once to develop a great deal of the coal property. It will be necessary to extend the rail road into the coal fields and to build several short lines."

The officials intimated that the company was to double its financial strength and might spend $1,000,000 in Nashville and vicinity. One of the local improvements may be the tunneling of the public square. The proposed extensions are said to total over 300 miles.

Mr. Van Blarcom left tonight for St. Louis. Senator Bailey goes to New York to attend a stockholders' meeting next week.

Leslie Combs, United States minister to Guatemala, and wife, who have been to Germany visiting their married daughter, are in Washington on their way to Kentucky for a brief sojourn before returning to Guatemala.

hone Franchise

MAYOR YEISER WILL OFFER IT FOR SALE TOMORROW MORNING.

Manager Joynes Would Not State What His Company Intends Doing in the Matter.

Tomorrow morning will decide whether the Cumberland Telephone company wants a franchise in this city to do business, because at 10 o'clock Mayor Yeiser will offer for sale at public auction the grant which was authorized put up for the benefit of this corporation, which has done business here for many years without a franchise.

The municipal legislative board have adopted ordinances ordering that a franchise be put up for sale in order that the Cumberland Telephone company could buy it in. In the ordinance it was stipulated that the company could not charge more than $2.50 per month for business phones, and $1.50 per month for service to residences, these prices being the limit it allowed by the municipal government to the People's Independent Telephone company running in opposition to the other line here. The Cumberland people object to these rates, as now they get $4 for business telephone, and $2.50 per month for residence connections, and do not want to cut their prices.

When the ordinance was first passed with these reduced prices in them, the Cumberland management announced that they would not buy in the franchise. Yesterday when asked about the sale, Mayor Yeiser would not state what they intended doing.

One city official stated yesterday that the municipal government had compromised everything with the Cumberland Telephone company ever since it started business here and to a great extent ran things to suit itself. He advocated getting out an injunction suit against the company to prevent it from doing business if they did not buy in the franchise tomorrow. In fact, he said he was going to raise this question at some ensuing meeting of the legislative board if something was not done.

Goes Direct

TOWN COW CASE DOES NOT STOP AT THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Will Be Taken Direct From Police Court to Court of Appeals at Frankfort.

In testing the town cow ordinance of this city will be carried direct to the appellate court of the state at Frankfort, and not taken through the circuit court of this city. Ordinarily every appealable case arising in the police court and county court has to go to the circuit court and then if decisions rendered there are not satisfactory they are taken to the court of appeals. In this particular instance City Attorney Thomas B. Harrison found a section of the statutes, 3063, where it states that when there is being tested any ordinance of a second class city in the police court that same can be carried by either side direct to the court of appeals without going through the circuit court.

To carry the proceeding higher the city attorney has requested Judge Sanders to give him a copy or transcript of the records in the case. These records are forwarded to the court of appeals together with briefs and all the documents incidental thereto so the higher tribunal can thoroughly familiarize itself with the proceeding and render its decision accordingly.

Judge Sanders decided that the ordinance was not valid and nobody could be fined under same or the bovines kept off the streets, and the municipal authorities have ordered the city attorney to appeal the case.

Mayor Yeiser advocated filing an ex parte suit in the circuit court for a legal construction of the ordinance, but even if this was done no result could be attained sooner, as the appellate bench is now in vacation, and does not convene until fall, therefore if the circuit court construction did not suit it would have to be carried to the higher court at Frankfort, and could not be heard until the vacation is over. The city solicitor and city attorney both oppose an ex parte proceeding and as a result there will just be appealed the decision of Judge Sanders in the police court.

Much Cement

WILL BE USED ON THE THIRD STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Contractor Ingram Is Expected Here to Turn Off the Storm Sewer Contract.

It will seem enormous to many people to learn that it will take 40,000 sacks of cement for the concrete foundation to be placed along Third street from Kentucky avenue to Broad street, where the street is to be paved with brick. There are about four sacks to the barrel, and each of the latter weigh 380 pounds. This is the largest amount of cement ever used here in any one contract and is being furnished Contractor Thomas Bridges by Barry & Henneberger.

The cement is used in the composition mixed for the foundation of the bricks, better known as concrete, and this part of the improvement is now being carried forward by a large crew of men, who started the concrete work Friday, and are now beyond Washington street with same.

Contractor Ingram of the bitulithic company, that puts the storm sewerage, brick and bitulithic streets, on Jefferson and Kentucky avenue, is expected to have his men here this week so as to start the sewer work off, it having to be completed first of all.

Before leaving for home he had stated he would commence last week, but things have kept him away and he is not expected until sometime this week.

Another Dissatisfied Pair.

Amanda McPherson sued Dudley McPherson for divorce. They were married in Illinois March 28th, 1890, but have resided here for the past few years. She claims that he abandoned her July 1st, 1904, and has since refused to live with her or make provision for her maintenance.

Ejectment Suit.

George Wallace yesterday in the court of Justice Jesse Young filed suit against James Vlahos to eject the latter from building at 211 Broadway. Plaintiff claims that Vlahos has not paid his rent, and also that the building is being used for purposes that raise the insurance which the plaintiff has to pay. The suit will be tried next Tuesday.

Death Causes Suit.

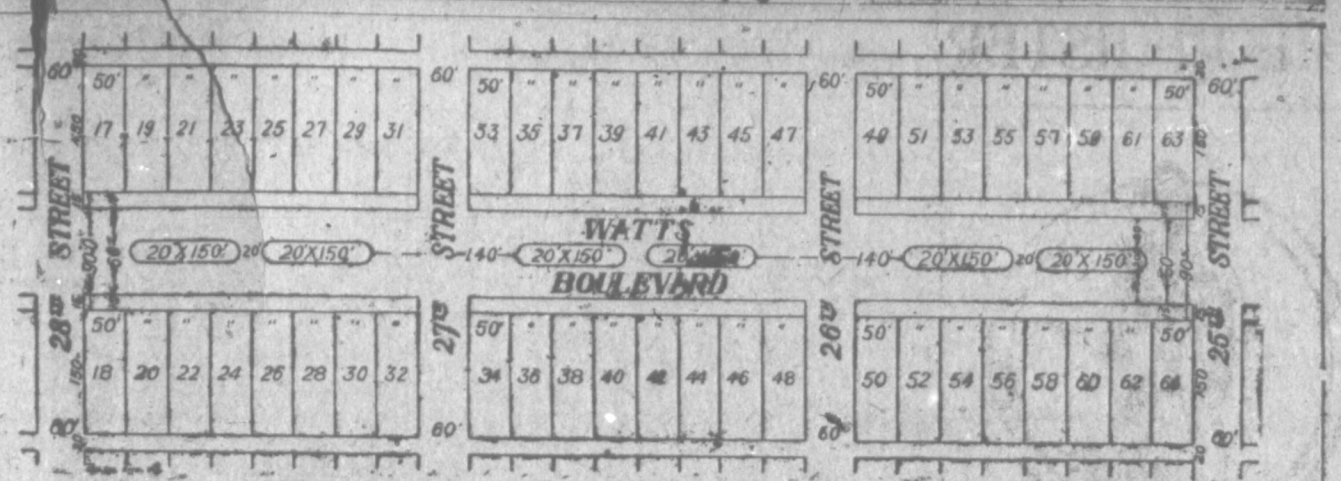

Lawyer Taylor yesterday filed suit in Mayfield for J. G. Whittell, administrator of John Winston, against the Illinois Central, for $25,000 damages. Winston was a flagman on an I. C. work train that stood out on the main track near Dawson. He was sent back to flag down the approaching freight train, and sat down on the track and fell off asleep. The freight struck and killed him. It is claimed he had been on the road 48 hours and worked so near to death that sleep overcame him no sooner than he sat down.

Big Federal Suit.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George W. Saunders, of Mayfield, was yesterday in Hickman, Ky., where he served the papers in the suit filed by the F. W. Cook Brewing company against Henry Tyler, Richard Tyler, Henry Amberg, Chess Smith, J. M. Hubbard, Prather Curdin, Charles Jackson, Finley Randle, L. Blakemore, Tom Dillon, H. Hodge, Richard Isler and six others. Each are sued for $5,000 each, or a total of $30,000. The brewery company claims that June 11, 1904, this delegation of Hickman citizens called on the brewery agent at Hickman, and making him load his beer and effects into a wagon, drove him out of town.

WATTS BOULEVARD (Ohio street reconstructed) when completed will commence on Broadway at Fountain avenue, thence south on extension of that avenue to Ohio street, then cut Ohio street to John Noble's old home place—about 20 blocks.

WATTS BOULEVARD is the first street south of Broadway that does not run up hill at 28th street. The Noble residence is estimated to be at 20th street.

WATTS BOULEVARD is the most elevated street in the city limits—level and straight—without cut or fill for about two miles, and runs through the center of the future population of "GREATER PADUCAH." A late census showed that between Worten's addition—W. F. Bradshaw's east line—Broadway and Mayfield road, 2,000 lots were owned by 600 different persons—a car line is therefore assured in the near future.

To start WATTS BOULEVARD the above three blocks HAVE BEEN LAID OUT GENEROUSLY AND WILL BE IMPROVED IN THE MOST LIBERAL MANNER. LOTS 50x150 feet; alleys 19 feet wide; sidewalks 15 feet wide, 90 feet from fence to fence; from curb to curb 60 feet; parks 20 feet wide, street will be graded and graveled; cement curbing around parks; cement curbing to sidewalks; four foot strip cement sidewalk; city water put in. Nature has greatly favored this district—high and well drained—with fine old forest trees and natural lawns. Paducah has no residence property its equal in natural advantages and high class improvements. An attempt will be made to make WATTS BOULEVARD the show street of Paducah and these substantial improvements will begin to give this district the prominence it deserves.

When Paducah has 50,000 people the fashionable drive will be out Jefferson street to 28th street, south to Broadway, out Broadway to Wallace park, south to Watt's Boulevard, then down Watts Boulevard to Broadway at Fountain avenue—about 5 miles.

Before improvements are laid down a limited number of finished lots will be sold at guaranteed prices—no lots reserved from first buyers.

At the request of a sufficient number of first buyers restrictions will be placed on cost of residences. Every lot is numbered by stake in middle of lot.

Ring up No. 199, Old Phone, and I will call on you with prices and other particulars interesting to first buyers.

Maintenance

CONTRACTOR BALDWIN NOW PREPARING BOND TO THAT END.

Has to Keep Sidewalks in Repair for Period of Five Years From Time of Acceptance.

Contractor Harry Baldwin is now preparing his maintenance bond that will be submitted to the board of public works for acceptance. He will then request that there be officially received the concrete sidewalks, he placed on both sides of Second street from Broadway to Kentucky avenue. The contractor has given a bond that he will keep the pavements in good repair, should they break or become defective in any manner during the ensuing five years. The improvement adds greatly to that block which is now in the best condition it ever was, and it represents a progressive and up-to-date hustling city of business activity with the handsome new market, new brick streets and elegant concrete sidewalks.

The sidewalk on the east side of the street was rejected some weeks ago by the board of works, but it has been placed in good condition and will shortly be accepted by that official body.

The maintenance bond the contractor is furnishing is in one of the surety companies and has been sent away to the company headquarters for approval. When it returns the board will accept same and receive the sidewalks. This will be followed by Mr. Baldwin being given estimates by the city engineer against the abutting property owners showing how much each owe for the work done in front of their respective places.

The Kewanee Daily Star Courier, of Kewanee, Ill., under date of July 3, has the following headlines: "The C. W. Parker Carnival Company. Sunflower Special of 32 Cars Transporting the Great Parker Amusement Company, Arrived Today." The Daily Gem, under date of July 1, says the following regarding the great Parker Amusement company: "The Parker shows are an exception of the general run of carnival companies. From one end of the pike to the other a lot of high-class moral shows, places of amusement and instruction where an evening is profitably spent, where there is an utter absence of vulgarity, gambling or graft." You will see from the clippings above that the Parker people are favorites everywhere, and their shows are of the highest moral character.

Members of this association should keep us posted as to their whereabouts, routing, etc., that we may communicate with them at any time until the fall carnival. Those who are not here often, send your routing to the secretary.

Beautiful Life

CLOSED YESTERDAY MORNING AFTER YEARS OF CONFINEMENT.

Remains of Mrs. Elvira Cook Will Be Taken to Marion, Ky., Today for Burial.

Mrs. Elvira Clinton Cook, of 809 South Fourth street, died early yesterday morning, after being a sufferer for nearly ten years from paralysis and a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Cook was born June 5, 1838, in Crittenden county and was the daughter of Peter and Mary Stewart Clinton. On October 2, 1861, she was married to Mr. Lewis Cook with whom her life was spent until his death, December 6, 1903.

Early in life Mrs. Cook united with the Methodist church and from that time until her death, her life has been an illustration of the highest type of Christian character. Owing to the nature of her disease she was completely helpless for many years, yet through all, she maintained a most cheerful disposition and not even in the most trying moments did a word of complaint ever escape her lips.

All that the devotion of her children could do to brighten the hours of her illness was done, and well would it be if every sufferer could receive such filial care.

A short service will be held at the house this morning at 9:30, after which the remains will be taken to Marion for burial.

Muddy Water

FOR AWHILE YESTERDAY THE SUPPLY WAS VERY BAD.

Caused by Pressure Being Taken Off Temporarily, and Water Churned Back and Forth.

Yesterday afternoon for some moments it could be noticed that the water supply coming from the water-works was quite muddy, and resembled conditions prevalent before the filtration plant was put in last year. It was thought over the city that the filtration plant had been closed down for some cause, but Superintendent Muscoe Burnett stated that a plumbier of the city was at work putting some holes in the water pipes while the high pressure was on, and that the pressure had to be taken off for some minutes because of an accident to the working plumbier that necessitated same. Withdrawal of the pressure for some moments caused the

The filtration plant has been going now steadily for over a year, and fortunate to state that the occasion has never arisen whereby it was compelled to close down. One or two minor breaks have happened just like is in any other well regulated plant of such magnitude, but the machinery and appliances through which the water is cleared, have worked admirably and given great satisfaction to the owners who despite the fact that the filtration cost over $100,000, they feel they are fully reimbursed by giving service excelled by none.

WILL OPEN ROADWAY WHEN HE GETS HIS CROP ALL IN.

City Engineer Will Survey City's Property to See if Any of Allen's Land Is Enclosed.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Dick Allen of the county, called on Mayor Yeiser and stated that he was more than willing to do everything fair regarding opening the right-of-way through his farm leading towards the city's pest house property that sits behind the Allen land. Mr. Allen complained though that the city had about one acre of his land wrongfully fenced in, and the mayor promised him that City Engineer Washington would be sent out there as soon as possible to survey the plot of ground, and if it is found that an acre is illegally fenced in, the fences will be moved and property turned back over to Mr. Allen.

The city some years ago bought from the late Bonaparte Jackson the pest house property, which sits back one-half mile off the road going out by the cemetery. In the deed Mr. Jackson got when he bought the land it was stipulated that whenever desired a complete roadway should be opened through the Dick Allen land that is between the public road and pest house ground. Of course when the city came into possession of the land, it was also endowed with the right to compel Mr. Allen to open the highway if he desired. Heretofore though there has never been any necessity of opening the road, but now the municipal authorities want the highway and have ordered the mayor and engineer to confer with Mr. Allen towards opening it.

Mr. Allen yesterday informed Mayor Yeiser that at present he had a crop planted at that point where the road will run through his place when opened, and that he would like for the officials to wait and let him get in his produce and stuff before pushing opening of the thoroughfare. Not being disposed to do anything injurious to the crop of Mr. Allen, the mayor informed him that the city officers would wait, but that they wanted the road opened just as soon as he could get his crop in. Mr. Allen also claimed that previous administrations had wrongfully fenced in about one acre of his property and kept it enclosed in the pesthouse grounds. If the surveys show this correct, the land will be returned him.

STYLES REFINED AND ARTISTIC—SEASON MARKED BY FINE DRESSING.

All Coats and Gowns Are of Lace and Embroidery—Answers to Correspondents.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 7.—The season opened auspiciously with quite an unusual number of very distinguished names on the hotel registers. Several society leaders, famous on two continents for sumptuous dressing and exquisite taste, and who set the seal of correct attire, will contribute by their influence and the charm of their artistic toilettes for all occasions, to make the summer of 1905 one of exceptional elegance as well as gaiety, even for this famous historic resort.

The Costume

For the early promenade to the springs, though supposed to be more or less negligee, and the toilette rather hastily made, must be smart and becoming. White is again in the lead and the costume of white serge or mohair, consisting of skirt of instep length and natty short jacket of impeccable tailor finish, worn with a very sheer and exquisitely dainty lingerie waist, or one of hand-embroidered linen, has received the mark of the most distinguished approval. Costumes of voile, Panama or chiffon broadcloth in pale shades of rose, electric blue, dove-gray or mauve, made on the lines just described are also well endorsed.

For the Afternoon Drive

To the extent that simplicity is the ruling for the morning costume, the extreme of the sumptuous and extravagant characterizes the toilette for the afternoon drive. All the season's wealth of provision in delicate and filmy, or costly and shimmering fabrics, and rare, beautiful garnitures, combined in marvelous creations by the genius and cunning of the world's most famous sartorial artists and milliners, are represented in these regal toilets. Here again the powerful sway of white linen over the mind of fashion is exemplified, but as widely different as night and noon are these exquisite creations from the simple morning costumes of the same material. Rich and elaborate with hand-work in heavy or open design, they are softened into the perfection of daintiness and refinement by the kind ly offices of sheer lace and chiffon frills.

This handsome directoire toilette, taken from the Delinatore, is of invisibly figured silk, dotted mull and lace. A lining is used for the bodice, which fits closely, center, side-back and under the arm seams being employed. Extensions on the fronts are turned over in broad revers, and a similar effect is given at the back if desired. The five-gored skirt is slightly gathered, and is in long or medium sweep or 'round length, with the front gore in regulation or petticoat effect.

The Embroidered Linen Coat.—Is deemed worthy to consort with the most elegant toilettes of silk, crepe de chine or flowered mousseline, and also with the lingerie frock which is much in evidence, but which is the highest expression of the filmy and diaphanous as well as of handwork combined with the delicate laces. The first Empire, the Directoire and the Louis periods have each one contributed their quota of inspiration in the fashioning of these artistic marvels.

The Empire coat of lace, the chic little Directoire coat of pale-tinted taffeta and the Louis types from XIII to XVI are represented with various modifications and in great diversity of materials and schemes of garniture.

The Evening Gown.—The interest and excitement of life in Saratoga culminates in the evening, when in the brilliantly-lighted ballroom, the gay music and the beautiful toilettes of fair maids and matrons resplendent with jewels, conspire to create a scene of great beauty. Dancing is again reinstated as a fashionable diversion, and the picturesque dancing frocks which recall the paintings of Watteau and Fragonard are not more captivating than the more sedate but elegant gowns worn by the rows of "handsome chaperons" which fringe the hall.

Many Entire Gowns of Lace.—Or net, robes of lace, chiffon plain or flowered, lace-trimmed gowns of Liberty satin or chiffon taffeta gowns are all well represented. No matter how the skirt may be arranged, whether in plain, soft, ample folds, with fullness well confined about the hips, or with flounces, tunic, drapery or ribbon garnitures, and no matter how the upper part of the bodice is finished, with bertha, fichu or floral wreaths amidst soft folds of puffings, there is almost invariably the deep corselet, sharply pointed and tight-fitting, revealing plainly the lines of a well-rounded but small, tapering waist.

By all means include a plain white organdy in your trousseau. Have a wide ruffle on the skirt, tucked at the lower edge and medallions of Irish lace at close intervals on the ruffle, the centres of fine tucks and the lace gathered around. A bertha edged with lace should trim the waist, and as a matter of course puffed sleeves finished with lace.

The parasol is quite as important at Saratoga as the hat, and this season should match the dress as nearly as possible. FANNIE FIELD.

Where the South Leads.
(Chicago Chronicle.)

No one section of the country has a monopoly of civic virtue, but there is some foundation for the claim of a Southern contemporary that the average of official morality is higher in Southern cities than in Northern municipalities.

At least the South has had no such scandals as those which have rendered Minneapolis and Philadelphia notorious. St. Louis has a record which is not sweet in the nostrils, but St.
Louis is more of a northern than a Southern city. The South has a pretty good record in this respect. We may go even further than the Southern newspaper referred to and admit that the South can afford to challenge comparison in the matter of state legislatures also. The scandals in these bodies are relatively few in the Southern states, and so far as reputation may be relied upon there has been no talk of venality in the choice of United States senators in the South since reconstruction days.
It is hardly necessary to say that so much cannot be asserted of a good many Northern states.

It may be said, in short, that the idea of personal integrity is a powerful influence in Southern official life. It is an influence far more powerful than the fear of the law and this is true in the private as well as the public life of the South. When the point of honor is raised the law receives scant consideration.

Thus the same influence which tends to raise the standard of Southern official morality also tends to ward disregard of the law in matters
where personal punctilio is involved.
The system has disadvantages as well as advantages.

It may be conceded, however, that the South has the advantage of some sections of the North in the matter of freedom from official scandals as it has of all sections of the North in the small courtesies and politenesses of life which we in the North are too busy, apparently, to cultivate.

The three-year-old child of Charles Carroll was playing in the yard of its parents' home near Elizabethtown, Ky., when a horse neighed shrilly close to its head. The child was seen to fall and when picked up was dead.
The child was clearly frightened to death.

Seaweed Is Valuable.

At last we seem to have found an excellent use for seaweed, thanks to an experienced and enterprising writer in June Outing. She owned a summer cottage by the sea, which,
like the Biblical mansion, was built upon sand. Before long the doors began to sag and the whole structure lose its balance, on account of the shifting of the foundation. It was then that necessity, the mother of invention, came to the rescue, and the seaweed, that was continually drifting in with the tide, was impressed into service. This was scattered around the house, a few loads of soil sprinkled over it, and in a few years what before was nothing but barren sand hills, became a carpet of vivid green,
the envy of the neighboring dwellers.
Also vegetables, flowers and even hedges made their appearance in time, and the great transformation was complete. No doubt many people who are situated in the same position will welcome this innovation as a godsend.

Is This All So?

There is but one sure cure for the drinking disease or habit, and that is the simplest of all. The cure consists in eating fruits. That will cure the worst case of inebriety that ever afflicted a person. It will entirely destroy the taste for intoxicants and will make the drunkard return to the thought and tastes of his childhood, when he loved the luxuries nature had provided for him and when his appetite had not become contaminated by false, cultivated tastes and attendant false desires and imaginary pleasures. No person ever saw a man or woman who liked fruit and who had an appetite for drink. No person ever saw a man or woman with an appetite for drink who liked fruit. The two tastes are at deadly enmity with each other, and there is no room for both of them in the same human constitution. One will certainly destroy the other. —What to Eat.

Diamond Case

WARRANT AGAINST HENRY
VAUGHAN FILED AWAY
YESTERDAY.

Dennis Reed, Colored, Held to the Grand Jury for Stealing Grip of a Young Lady.

In the police court yesterday there was filed away the warrant charging Henry Vaughan, colored, with stealing some diamond rings from a guest's room at the Palmer hotel. The loser cannot be found now to testify against Vaughan, so he was released.

There was dismissed the case charging Cleveland Edwards with breaking into the house of J. W. Nall out in the county.

Gertrude English was given a continuance until tomorrow of the breach of the peace charge against her.

Until tomorrow was continued the warrants charging Contractor Harry G. Cunningham with leaving material piled on the street at Fifth and 1 person streets without a danger signal light being out on same after nightfall.

Until tomorrow was also continued
the case charging Robert Torian with selling butter, etc., without a license.

Bob Green was arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct and the case continued until Monday.

Dennis Reed was held to the grand jury on the charge of petty larceny.
He is charged with stealing the grip of a young lady from her buggy down on the city scale lot. The grip was found in the possession of Accurman, the second-hand dealer, who had bought same from the boy, who said
it was his own property.

Influence of Education.

(St. Louis Republic.)

The question whether education is the source of freedom or whether freedom is the source of education continues to be debated, with strong advocates for either contention. But there is room for discussing the view that freedom owes its development and preservation to education. The proofs of this are made evident from life and affairs.

The enthusiasm manifested every summer in the annual convention of the National Educational association illustrates the deep study which the people of the United States give to the wide diffusion of knowledge.
This country provides freedom and for freedom's preservation provides education. That a high value is put upon democracy is due, no doubt, to the fact that education inculcates a profound appreciation of the benefits of the American governmental system.

Superior to all other rights and privileges conferred upon the nation by itself is the freedom granted to education. It is very significant that education is free; free, not in the sense of costing nothing, but free in the sense that it has no restrictions;
free in the same sense that the country is free, free in the sense of liberty.

It is the freedom allotted to education which has brought the United States forward intellectually. One system of instruction might be sufficient and efficient for all practical purposes, but if there were only one system, and that system alone were recognized, education would not be free nor so general. Conformant to the will of the people there is a public system of education, entailing no expense upon those who take advantage of it. Equally recognizing the popular desire, no prohibition exists against private teaching.

Freedom for education has enabled the founding of supplemental institutions of all kinds. Large universities, colleges, seminaries and schools having no connection with the public system, prosper as a result of educational liberty. Thus, the work of the government, the state and the city is aided by philanthropy, and the nation reaps the benefits.

A country is not strictly popular in form, a people is not literally free, it might be said, unless education has absolute freedom, such as it has in the United States. And educational liberty, stimulating interest in the pursuit of knowledge, is a guarantee of the endurance of democracy.

lipina Finkler of 734 Sixth street, has

ham. As they are in moderate circumstances, and had not expected to inherit anything from their uncle, the bequest has caused great rejoicing.

they have not done this.

ments for Labor Day. Weekly gather-

When You Go Visiting.

When you see a family jar, no matter how large, refrain from putting in even the smallest word.

Turn the gas low when you leave unoccupied rooms. This forest is the place through which to blaze a path.

Desist from accompanying your hostess to the market. A third party spoils a heart to heart talk with one's butcher.

Be punctual at breakfast. The best French cooks say the family should wait for an omelet, but nothing is said
of a guest.

Have a bank full of pin money
when you pay a visit. A clever fellow named Shakespeare predicted sad things of the borrower.

Use contents of the ink bottle on your note paper instead of the table cover. It is easily seen that your hostess preferred a pink and white color scheme.

Keep belongings in your own room.
Your hostess is willing to take it for granted, without absolute proof, that you have a reasonable supply of socks, gloves and handkerchiefs. — June

Cuba Watching Panama.

(Boston Record.)

Cuba, clean, healthy, without a single case of yellow fever, and without even a rumor of a bubonic plague victim, is watching the situation at Panama. This is one reason, undoubtedly, why the American government is so sensitive about the yellow fever bulletins now being issued daily. What a commentary it would be were Cuba to enforce her quarantine laws against Panama and the gulf cities, which have close trade relations therewith! Perhaps the Cubans, whom this country taught how to be immune from yellow fever,
may now teach their teacher.

Death to the Czar.

(Owensboro Inquirer.)

Sometimes we read in the dispatches that the mobs cry "Death to the czar." Without reflection we are chilled with the bloodthirstiness of this cry if we attach any importance to it, or are amused by its idleness if we do not. It should not be thought that it is mere individual cruelty or folly that starts the cry and keeps it up.

When a man forfeits his right to live, the government takes his life, a proceeding that is universally recognized as just and for the benefit of all concerned or those most concerned.
When the government forfeits its right to live, our fundamental statement of the principles on which governments are founded says that it must die. Every consideration of humanity, of honesty, decency, morality and equity joins in attesting the fact that the government of Russia merits destruction. In Russia the czar is the government. If the government is destroyed the czar dies. That is what the cry of the outraged millions means.

It has been proven by governmental experiments that a twelve-inch shell, loaded with dynamite, the world's most effective explosive, will crumple in the side of the strongest clad warship though the shell fall short of the ship twenty feet.

Prefer Charges

EDITOR BROWNLOW SAYS THEY MAY NOT BE READY TOMORROW.

Claims He Will Institute Proceedings Against Capt. Wood—Sheriff Came for Rudy Hale.

Tomorrow night the police commissioners hold their regular monthly session at the general assembly chamber in the city hall. It was stated that Editor Brownlow, of the News-Democrat, intended filing charges against Captain Joe Wood, of the police force, and when asked about it the afternoon paper man stated he most positively intended to bring charges against the captain, but did not know whether it would be tomorrow or not, as he had not yet fully decided with his lawyers on this point.

Take Hale Away.

Sheriff Weaver, of Cairo, arrived here last evening at 8:30 o'clock with requisition papers for Rudy Hale, the colored boy wanted at Mounds, near Cairo, on the charge of robbing Ed Beyers, colored, of a watch and about $60 in money. The sheriff will leave this morning with his prisoner for that city.

Hale was arrested here two weeks ago and refused to go back without requisition papers. He was then sent to jail to wait until those documents were gotten from Governor Deneen, of Illinois. It is claimed that he got Beyers to go to the house of ill-fame of his sister and there spend the night. When Beyers awoke he found that the inmates of the house had moved out during his nap and besides carrying their effects he charges them with taking his watch and money.

Drunken Female.

Mrs. Wilhite was arrested and locked up last evening by Officer John Hession on the charge of being drunk.

Very Quiet.

The police found it unusually quiet last evening for Saturday night, as only a few arrests were made, and these for minor offenses.

Lost Pocketbook.

Last night on Broadway there was lost a lady's purse containing a silver souvenir spoon. The loss was reported to the police who wish the finder to return it there.

Not Yet Caught.

The police have not been able to catch J. S. Bordeaux, Jr., against whom a warrant has been gotten out charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses while connected with The People's Home Purchasing company of which his father, J. S. Bordeaux, Sr., was general manager. The young man is alleged to have skipped also. It was reported from a certain source yesterday that Bordeaux, the senior, was in a certain Southern town going under an assumed name, and received letters and messages from Paducah under that alias. He is wanted here also, on two charges, one of doing business in the state without the proper authority, and the other for alleged embezzlement.

Plans are being made to organize here a branch of the Knights of Columbus order.

Caulkers Meet

SPECIAL SESSION TO BE HELD BY THEM THIS AFTERNOON.

Judge Sanders Set Down for Tomorrow Warrants Against George Garvey and Julian Morgan.

This afternoon the Caulkers' union will hold a meeting at the Central Labor hall on North Fourth street for the purpose of taking up their strike question. They have now been out eight days and claim they will not sign up with the marine ways and the Finney dry-docks unless permitted to spin their own oakum as called for in their new articles of agreement.

Superintendent Mike Williams, of the marine plant, started his men to work again yesterday morning and claims he has other caulkers on the way here to take the place of strikers.

Councilman Young Taylor, of the dry docks at the foot of Jefferson street, signed the new articles of agreement with the understanding that he was to be released from them if the other plants did not sign within a "reasonable" length of time. As the officers of the union informed him that two weeks would be a "reasonable" length of time, this means that Mr. Taylor will probably ask to be relieved from the compact the last of this week, as the other superintendents state they do not intend to sign.

Yesterday morning Judge Sanders set down for trial tomorrow morning the warrants against George Garvey and Julian Morgan, charging them with assaulting Foreman Alex McCarty and the latter's nephew, Alex McCarty, Jr., when these two were coming away from the marine ways plant at noon Friday. The case was not ready for trial yesterday morning.
